

My life span covers severe changes in the ownership of the media. I can speak from experience that the current amalgamation of ownership of multiple outlets is limiting our freedom to accurate and unprejudiced information.